

New Headquarters for Tentamus Italy and Tentamus AgriParadigma in Ravenna.

Tentamus Italy is proud to introduce its new headquarters: a cutting-edge building of over 700 square meters, which will be the shared base for all corporate employees throughout the Italian territory.

The areas of the building are designed to provide spaces for internal and external training and to host customer meetings and events.

 The expansion plan also involved the Tentamus AgriParadigma Laboratory. The new headquarters also include the entire technical and operational laboratory management.

 The extension project doesn't stop here: a new area of over 600 square meters is bound to ensure a significant boost to the entire production process, analytical capacity and each Business Unit development.

The Group is constantly working to provide the Italian market with a variety of analytical services and to offer an increasingly wide range of services to its customers.
